

N.C. State Crawford Success Center

The Crawford Success Center, part of the North Central State College, located in Bucyrus Ohio, opened in the fall of 2015. HEI Engineering Group was part of the design team that provided HVAC and plumbing design for the facility. The existing building had been several retail establishments over the years and had been gutted of all walls and services prior to the start of construction.

The Crawford Success Center will:

Serve as an entry point for students who need to complete a GED, enroll in College Credit Plus, or work toward a certificate or associate degree!

Offer classes, workforce training, professional development and seminars on-site.

Provide access to Student Services of North Central State College.
